room of the executive building, was again superintendent after an interval of six hours.

Dr. Brunk will, however, at the invitation of Mr. Bland, a member of the special board, occupy a room to-night at the asylum. Dr. Brunk, however, took the precaution of calling up Colonel Lana and Informing him of the new complications, and also of talking over the long-distance 'phone with Mr. Eppa Hunton, of Richmond, counsel for the general board. It is said that Mr. Hunton remarked that the writt issued, by the Supreme Court, ordering Dr. Foster to give way to Dr. Brunk was "horse high, buil atrong and pig tight." He said to-night that he would take no action until he had read in The Times-Dispatch the full text of Judge Tyler's lates writ. Colonel Lawless, of the counsel for Dr. Foster, said to-night that the public were misinformed regarding the action taken by the Supreme Court. The Supreme Court, in Supreme Court. The Supreme Court, in and the public were misinformed regarding the action taken by the Supreme Court. In the meanwhile Judge Tyler holds why a writ of prohibition should not be issued.

In the meanwhile Judge Tyler holds that the rights of all parties shall remain in statu quo until the Court of Appeals has decided whether or not the Williamsburg court has jurisdiction to issue the writ of certionari. The writ issued by Judge Tyler to-night is only a supplemental writ to that of January 2d, enlarged, and it will stand until the Supreme Court has passed on the jurisdiction at issue."

Judge Scott enjoined Dr. Foster from interfering with Dr. Brunk, Judge Tyler enjoined Dr. Brunk from interfering with Dr. Foster, and the Supreme Court will now determine which proceedings will stand the test of law, Messrs, Lawiess and Jeffress, counsel for Dr. Foster, will appear before the Supreme Court for Judge Tyler on February 5th. Dr. Brunk said to-night at midnight: "I will stay here until I have heard from counsel and until the status of affairs has been definition. intil the status of affairs has been defi-nitely settled." "May Be Sitting on Key of Powder," Says One. Key of Powder," Says One.

Dr. Foster made the statement to-night that he felt that he was being unjustly hounded, and that he meant to fight the case to the bitter end. No one knows just what will happen next, but one thing is assured, that no personal difficulty will take place, for both Dr. Foster and Dr. Brunk have stated that they have no personal feeling in the matter. Neither Colonel Lane nor Mr. Cole visited the asylum to-night. Dr. Brunk was his own lawyer, backer, board and writ-server. As one party in interest said to-night, 'If feel as though I were sitting on a keg of gunpowder, which may go off at any minute." It is thought he refers to the danger of taking liberties with the Suminute. It is thought he refers to the danger of taking liberties with the Supreme Court. At any rate the fight is on and gloves are off at last. It will be a bitter battle to the finish, and a clean knockout will alone decide the contest.

A Reasonable Plea For The Stomach

If Your Stomach is Lacking in Digestive Power, Why Not Help the Stomach Do Its Work—Especially When It Costs Nothing to Try?

It Costs Nothing to Try!

Not with drugs, but with a reinforcement of digestive agents, such as are naturally at work in the stomach? Scientific analysis shows that digestion requires pepsin, nitrogenous ferments, and the secretion of hydrochloric acid. When your food fails to digest, it is proof positive that some of these agents are lacking in your digestive apparatus.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain nothing but these natural elements necessary to digestion, and when placed at work in the weak stomach and small intestines, supply what these organs need. They stimulate the gastric glands intestines, supply what these organs need. They stimulate the gastric glands and gradually bring the digestive organs back to their normal condition.

Stuart's Dyspensia Tablets have been subjected to critical chemical tests at home and abroad, and are found to contain nothing but natural digestives.

Situation Not Satisfactory.

The President has assured the Californians that if they will but yield in the matter of the controversy over admission of Japanese children to the public schools, he will negotiate within thirty days a treaty with Japan which will be entirely satisfactory to the people of the two countries. It is understood that Japan is willing to have the treaty contain a provision regulating the immigration of Japanese laborers to the United States. It is probable, however, that should California recede in this matter of the public school privilege for Lapanese children, Japan would demand that the treaty contain still other provisions which would not be acceptable to the United States.

Summed up, the situation is not satisfactory to the lovers of peace in both countries, It might be going too far to say that there is imminent danger of ward. Situation Not Satisfactory

WAR IS INEVITABLE. SAYS ONE REPORT

Man Who Called on President Quoted as Saying That Preparation Must be Made for Crisis.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., January 31 .- Th Cagle this afternoon publishes the following special from Washington:

owing special from Washington:

"War with Japan, is inevitable. It will not come to-day nor to-morrow, but sooner or later a test of strength will come on the question of which nation shall control the Pacific. This fact is realized by the leading members of the Presiden's administration. Consequently the policy is to shape matters to meet the clisis when it arrives."

Presiden's administration. Consequently the policy is to shape matters to meet the crisis when it arrives."

This statement was made to-day by one of the men who were called to the White House law yesterday aftermon to discuss the Japanese matters with the President.

Secretary Taft, ai the other end of the Capitol, was tilling members of the Senate Military Committee of the imperative need for immediate fortifications at Pearl Hirbor, Honolulu, Heasked the committee to increase its appropriations for this work from $100,000 to $350,000 and so earnest was his plea that the committee has decided to give him the additional money desired. Honolulu is in a practically defenseless state.

In view of these important happenings there is to-day more talk of possible trouble with Jajan than at any time since the San Fraicisco school controversy was at its height.

Without he any way seeking to arouse undue apprehension it may be stated that high administration officials admit in confidence that a struggle with Japan in the East is bound to come at some time in the future. The conflicting interests of the two lations will, it is believed, bring on an inevitable class, The school question is rying to remove before it becomes serious. It lowever, it has served to emphasize the grave possibilities of the future, and has spurred the administration into active defense measures. What the administration desires is to maintain peaceful ushtions at least until the Panama Canal is completed. There is a foar that Japan may take offense at some happening and strike without warning, as she dd against Russia.

and members of his Cabinet with the California delegation:

"The California delegation is pleased with the situation with reference to Japan as developed at the conference yesterday. We feel very hopeful that the result of this conference and of others that will follow will be a solution of the Japanese difficulty that will be perfectly satisfactory to the people of California. Speaking for himself, Mr. Haves said:
"I have no fear of any diplomatic crisis with Japan, nor of any serious trouble of any kind with that nation."
It is stated at the War Department that no reports have been received from any source indicating that the Japanese in Hawali have organized secret military organizations, and are drilling with the view to acquiring control of the island.

Regarding the appeal of the War Department to Congress for an appropriation to complete the defenses of Hawali it is denied that this appeal has any connection whatever with the relations between Japan and the United States, but was simply dictared by a desire "to put the house in order" in accordance with the plans formed at least a year ago by the military and naval officers country.

HENDERSON, N. C., January 31.—Mr. Charles J. Burton died 21 his home in this place at 9:45 o'clock Monday morning, January 31st. The end was almost sudden, and coming so unexpectedly the announcement of his death was a great shock to his friends. Mr. Burton had not been a sound man physically for a year or more, but his appearance and manner did not betray the fact, and outside of his physician and himself few persons knew his constitution was being rapidly undermined. Saturday he was attending to business as usual. Sunday he was not feeling well and stayed about the house. Monday morning, just as he was preparing to come up town, he complained of an oppressive feeling, and aid down. A physician was summoned, but before he arrived the sick man breathed his last.

o'clock, Friends of the family are cordially invited.

Weep not for her who's now at rest,
Where care and pain no more annoy;
Have reached the haven of the blest,
And realized immortal joy.
Her spirit smiles from that bright shore.
And softly whispers, "Weep no more."
